Supabase Update — May 2026

Hey Ginno 🙌,

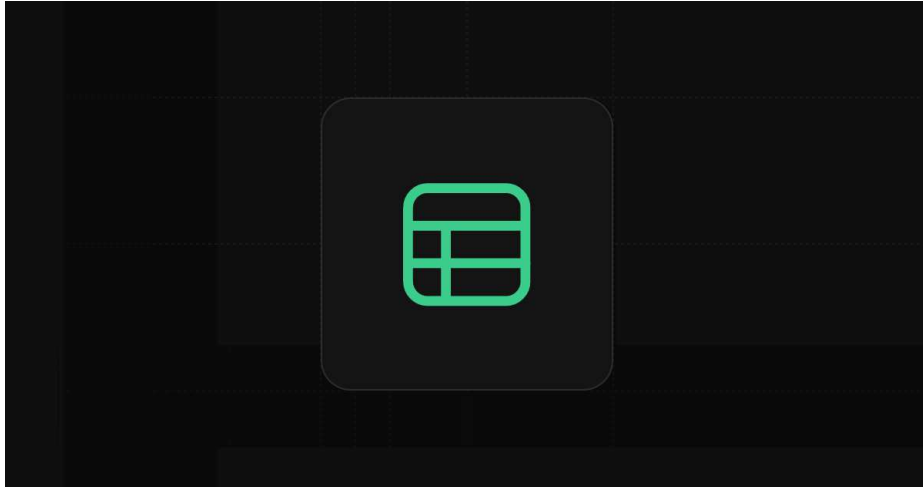

Here's everything that happened with Supabase in the last month:

Custom OAuth/OIDC providers for Auth

Connect any OAuth2 or OpenID Connect identity provider to your Supabase project, including GitHub Enterprise, regional IdPs, and any standards-compliant provider, with PKCE enabled by default.

New tables in the public schema are no longer auto-exposed to the Data API

Starting April 28, new Supabase projects can opt out of automatic Data API exposure for public schema tables. Explicit Postgres grants are now required to make a table reachable via PostgREST or GraphQL. This becomes the default for all new projects on May 30.

Supabase is now ISO 27001 certified

Supabase is certified to ISO/IEC 27001:2022, covering the information security management system across the entire platform.
